Fulcrum Partners Supports Luis Palau Global Ministry in Malawi

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, FL-- (August 11, 2016) Fulcrum Partners LLC, one of the nation's leading and largest executive benefits consultancies, is a corporate sponsor of an expansive ministry outreach that involves more than 700 churches in Malawi, Africa. The "Love Malawi" Festival is a collaborative project of Andrew Palau and the Luis Palau Association.

Currently, events are being hosted in five of Malawi's larger cities, as well as the Dzaleka Refugee Camp, which houses people from Ethiopia, Rwanda, and the Democratic Republic of Congo. For more than a month, ministry workers and volunteers including civic leaders, church congregations and global participants, serve within Malawi communities, organizing music and sports entertainment, networking opportunities to grow local businesses, prayer and ministry experiences and the distribution of eyeglasses, shoes, soccer balls and other needed items.

Scott Cahill, (Orlando, FL) a cofounder and managing director of Fulcrum Partners, said, "Our work at Fulcrum Partners helps people achieve personal goals through the stability and abundance that comes with financial wellness. When we can expand that, facilitating hope, direction and opportunity in struggling communities, we impact people and economies in ways that potentially have everlasting benefits.”

“Corporate responsibility,” added Cahill, “is more than how we respect and serve our clients. It includes our relationships and commitments to our families, employees, vendors, peers, communities and the world in which we live.”

Love Malawi events will run through August 24, 2016, and will conclude with a two-day festival in the nation’s capital of Lilongwe.
