Fulcrum Partners Honors Leadership and Advocacy in Charleston, SC

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, FL -- (November 30, 2017) As part of its 10-year anniversary celebration, Fulcrum Partners LLC is honoring the leadership team that has helped the company grow to more than $6B in assets under management. Founded in Ponte Vedra Beach and Orlando, Florida, the firm now has 13 nationwide offices, including Fulcrum Partners Charleston, South Carolina, where Christopher H. Nyland is the managing director.

Chris Nyland, who has more than 30 years of in-depth experience in executive benefits, joined Fulcrum Partners after spending 9 years with Clark Consulting, and 6 years as an Executive Vice President with Schoenke & Associates in Washington DC. He holds a Series 6 and Series 63 securities registration and is a graduate of Radford University. As an avid student of U.S. history and government, Chris views today's evolving political and economic landscape with both interest and concern.

Describing himself as “a patriot and a politics geek,” with a manageable addiction to C-SPAN, Chris explained, “At Fulcrum Partners, we help clients prepare and position themselves and their companies for a secure financial future. Of course, we are closely following the details of all the current proposed tax reform issues.”

“But we are not standing back and watching silently,” said Chris. “We are advocating on behalf of our clients and millions of other hard-working Americans as decisions are being made right now that could measurably impact their ability to save for a stable retirement. For our nation, this is history in the making.”

Chris, a native of Charleston, returned to the community more than ten years ago. “Charleston, rich in heritage and tradition,” said Chris, “is a perfect place for a history buff like me. I am honored to serve a client base that is nationwide, but I love sailing in Charleston Harbor and I love calling this city my home.”
