Fulcrum Partners Executive Benefits Supports Local and Global Initiatives as Servant Leaders

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, FL – (December 19, 2017) Executive benefits advisory, Fulcrum Partners LLC, demonstrates leadership through service with its commitment to generosity and volunteerism. As Scott Cahill, a company founder and the managing director of Fulcrum Partners Orlando, explains, “Our role as executive benefits advisers includes helping organizations and individuals position themselves to create legacy within their lifetime. For many people that includes the idea that you make a living by what you get but you make a life by what you give. Sharing this conviction, the team at Fulcrum Partners works to advance positive change built on our belief that service and giving are critical elements of leadership.”

In October, Fulcrum Partners was a $50,000 sponsor of a Côte d’Ivoire (Ivory Coast) event scheduled as part of the Luis Palau commitment to, “saturate Africa with the Good News of Jesus Christ.” This evangelistic effort, led by Andrew Palau, focused on Yamoussoukro, the political capital of Côte d’Ivoire and the nearby cities of San Pedro and Abidjan. In addition to ministry and the distribution of over 100,000 Bibles, the two-year vision brings medical, dental and other vital support services to the people of the region.

Scott Cahill, who also serves as the USA Board Chairman of the Luis Palau Association, says, "Each event is designated as a season of service, and the work done by the Palau team and volunteers on the ground before and after is as important as the festival itself. The goal is to be city-focused, collaborating with civic leaders to learn what their communities need and then work to meet those needs. The Côte d'Ivoire City Festival was more than sharing the gospel, it was demonstrating the message of the gospel in action."

The servant leadership of Fulcrum Partners takes many forms and involves the partners and consultants at all the firm's 13 nationwide offices. Some of the team's gifts this year include $10,000 to the Glendora Unified School District Foundation, donations to the Arise Rwanda Ministries to help facilitate the construction and expansion of the Kivu Hills Academy vocational school in Boneza, Rwanda, donations to the Boys and Girls Club, the Salvation Army, Palm Beach Atlantic University, Rock Orlando Ministry, Daniel Kids child-serving agency, CRU (Campus Crusade for Christ), Compass, the 306 Foundation, Stroke Out Cancer and Frontline Outreach.

"We share this news," says Founder and Managing Director Bruce Brownell, "hoping to encourage others to step up with acts of generosity and leadership, in the same way we ourselves are inspired by servant leaders like fifteen-year-old Michael Bucher.

"Michael's family is fighting cancer. He wanted to do something to honor their strength and their battle. So he set up a website, www.strokeoutcancer.org, and under the supervision of his swim coach, Michael is swimming miles to match sponsor donations which he passes on, 100%, to established 501(c)(3) charitable cancer organizations. Michael, who already has swum over 200 miles, is a reminder that each of us can be a servant leader and effect positive social change."
